RUSH OF BILLS.

About 140 Introduced In The House The First Bill Day.

Hon. Jas. F. Rogers Has One On The Question Of Uniform School Books.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 15.—As is usual on the first bill day of the legislative session there are many duplications, and not more than half of the measures presented and referred to Committees will ever see the light of day outside the committee room of the committee to which they went. An instance of the extent of the duplication is given in the number of bills offered to provide for Kentucky a law giving a uniform system of school text books. Four were offered, Representatives Paynter, Moore, Rogers and Smith being the authors. Seven other educational bills were offered, four of them by Representative Wells, of Calloway. Eight bills redistricting the State were offered. Four of these, presented by Representatives Conway, Money, W. W. Lewis and Bruner, were congressional; three, offered by Representatives Parker, Money and A. S. Bennett, were senatorial, and one, by Representative North, was legislative. Two bills were acts to regulate the practice of embalming, presented by Representatives Tompkins and F. B. Brown. There were two to regulate elections; three to regulate the practice of pharmacy, and at least twenty-five affecting the cities and small towns of the State. But one of these, the city of Paducah, seeks to go up a notch. It asks to be taken from the third and placed in the second class.

Three of the 140 bills introduced carried directly appropriations of money out of the State Treasury. The first of these, the Holland State Capitol bill, asks only an immediate appropriation of $10,000. Representative Reed, of Boyle, asked $150,000 for the institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and Representative Klair of Fayette, not at all modest, asked an appropriation of $154,639 for the Eastern Insane Asylum, and $105,000 for the State A. and M. college.

Representative North, of Lincoln, led the House members in the number of bills introduced, sending up twenty to the Clerk's desk. They covered all manner of subjects.

Some of the bills out of the ordinary and the reading of the titles alone of which excited interest, and in some instances amusement, were: "An act to prevent horse-racing in Kentucky;" "an act imposing a tax on dogs;" "an act protecting birds nests, and their eggs;" "an act prescribing a penalty for abduction;" "an act placing the selection of jurors in the sheriff;" "an act requiring professional lobbyists to register as such and pay a license to the State;" "an act regulating the sale of cocaine;" "an act making the carrying in Kentucky of concealed deadly weapons a felony punishable by confinement from one to five years in the State penitentiary;" and "an act to prohibit the sale of cigarettes."

METHODIST MINISTER

Passes Away Near Bolivar After Brief Illness.

Rev. B. H. Hargraves, a well known Methodist minister, died Tuesday night at the home of his son-in-law, W. A. Reed, near Bolivar, this county, aged 65 years.

Rev. Hargraves was a native of Tennessee and for many years lived near Gallatin. He had been making his home with Mr. Reed for several years. Death was due to pneumonia. He had only been sick a few days. The interment took place at Hopewell cemetery yesterday at noon. Rev. E. L. South, gave held services at the grave.

COUNCIL MEETS

And Elects Another Chief of Police.

Joe K. Twyman Elected as Lieutenant of Police For Night Service.

The Council met Wednesday night and elected E. H. Armstrong Chief of Police to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of J. M. Bullard.

Joe K. Twyman was elected as Lieutenant, and will have charge of the police force at night.

John A. Twyman, City Engineer, is in Florida, and may be there for a month or more. Joe K. Twyman has been acting in his place, but as he will accept a regular position on the police force, this necessitated the selection of another as Engineer pro tem. Mr. R. M. Hurt was elected for this purpose.

Other matters of minor importance were transacted, when the body adjourned.

HEALTH BOARD

Holds its First Meeting And Elects a City Physician.

The Board of Health met last Tuesday night, the first meeting of the Board since it was created by action of the City Council last week.

Quite a number of matters of interest were considered by the board, among which was keeping the city in a perfect sanitary condition. Dr. R. L. Woodward was elected city physician at a fixed salary. This is a step in the right direction, and our people may expect a radical change on this line. The board and the physician are all strong sanitarians and will spare no efforts to put the city in the position that the people have desired it to be.

The appointment of Dr. Woodward is a deserved recognition of his eminent fitness for the place. He is one of the best educated physicians in this section of the State; is a fine surgeon, and has had long experience in practice of medicine. For some time he was connected with the hospitals of Nashville. It is a recognized fact that the system of sanitation of Nashville is one of the best in the United States. We expect great work by the new board and its physician and apprehend no disappointment.

FISCAL COURT.

The Fiscal Court was in session yesterday. Matters of a general nature but not of interest to the public, were disposed of. Ex Gov. Bob Taylor delivered his new lecture, "The Old Plantation" at the Opera House last night to a house in which standing room was at a premium. Every seat on the main floor was sold before noon yesterday and many applicants were unable to get seats. Gov. Taylor did not arrive until the 8:25 train, but the audience waited patiently till he came.

A Brother of Der Kaiser, is Coming to America.

Prince Henry, who is coming to America to represent the Kaiser at the launching of his yacht, learned the English language from his mother and it comes to him so naturally that sometimes he unconsciously drops into it in moments of abstraction. He is not much of a talker either privately or publicly, but his manner is agreeable and straightforward and he is regarded as knowing his profession extremely well for a man of his high rank.

THE MAGIC NUMBER.

Various Theories as to What It Is—Take Your Choice.

"I often hear of the magic number," said some one. "What number is it?"

"Why, nine, of course," replied some one else. "There are nine Muses, you know, and you talk of a nine days' wonder. Then you bowl at nine pins, and a cat has nine lives."

"Nonsense!" broke in another. "Seven is the magic number. Seven is the number of the rainbow; seven days in the week; seven of a suit in cards;—great fellow; and—"

"Fish, fish!" remarked a third. "Fish is the magic number. A man has nine lives, on his hand and five toes in his foot, and a fish lives once."

"There is undoubtedly the magic number," cried a fourth. "There are nine months in a year, and there are nine months in a woman's life. And at first you don't succeed, try, try again—nine times a day!"

"It is the magic number," said a fifth. "One, six, and seven! The adverb! Just now!"

A hard-fisted individual, who had been listening to the conversation listlessly, interposed, here remarked, in a harsh voice:

"The magic number is Number One in this world, and if you want to succeed, never forget it."

An interval of deep thought on the part of all followed, after which they went in silently to supper.—London Tit-Bits.

MURDER CHARGE

Against Col. Metcalfe, Applicant

For Pension Agent.

Charged With Killing An Unarmed Filipino Prisoner.

A dispatch from Washington, dated 13th instant, says that before the Senate committee on pensions that day the charge against Col. Wilder S. Metcalfe, of being a prisoner while in service in the Philippine Islands, was revived. Col. Metcalfe is the nominee of the office of pension agent at Copeka, Kas., and the charge is made in connection with the effort to defeat his confirmation. Col. Metcalfe was a major in the Twentieth Kansas volunteers when the battle of Caloocan was fought and the charge is that during the battle he shot with his revolver a Filipino prisoner who was unarmed and at the time on his knees pleading for mercy. Affidavits from soldiers in the Twentieth Kansas have been filed with the committee and Capt. Edward Boltwood, late captain of Company K, of this Regiment, appeared before the committee in person. He pressed for full investigation, saying that the inquiry which had been made by War Department was superficial. The committee heard Capt. Boltwood at length and at the conclusion of the hearing Chairman Gallinger referred the nomination to Senators Simon Scott and McCumber for further investigation.

Birth-marks which mark the outer outside of the body are a grief to every mother whose child may bear them. But for every child who bears a birth-mark on the skin there are many who bear an indelible birth-mark on the mind. Nervous mothers have nervous children, and many a man and woman owes an irritable and despondent temperament to those days of dread when the mother waited the hour of her maternity. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthens the mother for her trial. With strength comes a healthy spirit and a quietness of mind, which is one of the happiest gifts a mother can bestow on her offspring. By giving vigor and elasticity to the delicate womanly organs "Favorite Prescription" practically does away with the pain of maternity and makes the baby's advent as natural and as simple as the blossoming of a flower. There is no opium, cocaine or other narcotic contained in "Favorite Prescription."

ANOTHER TRUST.

Deed of Trust for $2,500,000 Filed At Cleveland.

The last step in the formation of the big pneumatic tool trust was the filing of a deed of trust for $2,500,000 in the county recorder's office at Cleveland, O., last Monday. The deed was from the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company to the Central Real Bond and Trust Company, of New York, to secure the payment of $2,500,000 issue of 20-year first mortgage 5 percent gold bonds.

The plants of the Boyer Machine Company, of Detroit; the Otley Metal Company, of Philadelphia; the Chisholm & Moore Manufacturing Company, of this city; the Franklin Air Compressor Company, of Franklin, Pa.; and 20,000 shares of the New Tarte-Howard Pneumatic Tool Company of London, England, together with all the patents of the big concern, are included in the securities.

STREET FAIR

People United Their Destinies at the Court House.

Wednesday morning a party who had been connected with a street fair and bailed from Jacksonville, Fla., applied to County Clerk Prowse for license to marry. Ob- jecting name Judge Fowler stepped across the hall and in an im- pressive manner pronounced them man and wife. The groom is W. E. Stroppe, the bride Miss Lola Mat- thews.

Remarkable Cure of Croup.

A LITTLE BOY'S LIFE SAVED.

I have a few words to say regard- ing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., and when got home with the little boy coughing badly, I gave the medicine as directed over ten min- utes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the child out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth to day.—J. J. DEMORE, Le- gion, Iowa. Moved to Madisonville.

Judge M. D. Brown and family, of this city, went to Madisonville last Tuesday morning, where they will make their future home. What- ever we are glad that the prospects are so flattering for the Judge in the practice of his profession yet we are loth to give him up, for he is a whole-soul, genial man. The Judge was born and raised in this county and has been identified with its in- terests so long that he will be missed. He found his way to Mad- isonville several years ago remain- ing there long enough for the people to well know his qualities. Here is hoping that his success may be un- limited.

A Good Recommendation.

"I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa, and a better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. STEADY GROWTH

Of The City of Hopkinsville On South Main Street.

The New Building of the First National Bank To Be Erected Soon.

Among the many new buildings that will go up in this city this year will be the new quarters of the First National Bank. Plans are being drawn for an elaborate building on the bank's property just across the street from its present quarters and known as the Frankel building. This is one of the best locations in the city and the property has al- ways been held at a high figure. The property came into the hands of the bank several months since and was bought with the view of erecting in place of the antiquated structure one of the handsomest bank buildings in this section of the state. The special features have been in the hands of architects for some time and the officers have about decided on which plan they will adopt. As soon as building weather opens work will commence and be pushed to a rapid comple- tion.

The building will prove quite an addition to the already ornamental Southern section of Main street. As is well known, the largest and most imposing buildings in the city, excepting Hotel Latham are lo- cated "down in the bottom." In fact, most if not all buildings of any magnitude that have been erected on Main street in the past decade have necessarily been south of Ninth street. The great conflagra- tion of 1882, and the one following in December 1884 wiped out every- thing above Eighth street. In place of the antiquated two-story build- ings arose modern three-story struc- tures. But increasing population and business demanded more large business houses. The first building to be erected was on the corner of Ninth and Main, known as the Withers block—the present quar- ters of the First National Bank—and along with it the Moayon block. Then the Mason block, now the Northern half of the Trice block, built specially for the oc- cupancy of J. H. Anderson & Co. In 1894 Mr. J. H. Anderson put up the double three-story building cor- ner of Tenth and Main.

The increasing business of the KENTUCKIAN, which had been lo- cated upstairs on Ninth street, in- duced the publisher to look out for more commodious quarters, and simultaneously with the erection of what has generally been known as the Racket Building, up sprang the KENTUCKIAN office. Then another wide-awake firm, Ragsdale, Cooper & Co., had drawings made and let out the contract for their impos- ing three-story block, reaching from Tenth to Eleventh streets. This was followed by Forbes & Bro., who made an addition to their store-room of an office and three rooms to their block.

Of course this look backward was of interest to all who are inter- ested in the growth of our city, and it is with pride that they take back- glances and even take hope for the future of the best town in Southern Kentucky.

The quarters for the First National Bank will be on a par with the other buildings in its neighbor- hood. No expense will be spared to make it thoroughly adapted to the purposes for which it is intend- ed. It is to be two stories, but showing a three-story frontage.

The first floor will be devoted to the uses of the bank—the banking office, vaults, etc.—equipped with everything necessary for the con- venience and comfort of the gentle- men who conduct its business. The second floor will be approached by two stairways, one on Main and the other on Ninth street. Suits of business offices will be conveniently arranged and provided with every- thing to make them desirable. In fact this modern building will be up-to-date in every particular. The business of the bank has grown steadily from year to year, and we are glad to see the manifest pros- perity it has attained in the eight years of its existence.

The Planters Bank and Trust Co., which has lately purchased the building occupied by Bassett & Co. and J. L. Tobin, will begin re- modeling early in the spring. Be- sides arranging the building for perfect adaptation for banking pur- poses, the company will also put in a number of vaults for the conven- ience of the public and other new features.

The City Bank has, for some time, been considering plans for radical changes in its building, but as we are told by the president, the architects have not yet suggested exactly the changes desired.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She com- plained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Cham- berlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my fam- ily for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Anabot Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pneumonia in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to contract pneumonia. For sale by all Druggists.

Coming Attractions.

"The Missouri Girl" which comes to Holland's Opera House Tuesday evening Jan. 21 is one of the most unique comedies ever brought here. It fairly bubbles over with fun from beginning to end, and affords an evening of rare amusement. The production was written to bring out the quaint humor of Fred Raymond, who is portraying "Zeke Dobson," a gawky farmer lad, convulses the audience at his every appearance. Mr Raymond in general make up is well fitted for the part, and his originality of speech and action per- fects his character.

A Reliable Remedy for Bowel Troubles.

Rev. J. M. Yingling, pastor of the Redford St. M. E. Church, Cum- berland, Md., says: "It affords me great pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used it and know others who have never known it to fail." For sale by all Druggists.

Will Not Resign.

Esq. Thos. J. McReynolds, who has been elected road supervisor for the county will not have to re- sign as magistrate. The best law- yers in the city hold that the posi- tions are not incompatible. It is in fact much better to have the road work under the personal supervi- sion of a member of the Fiscal court who can be in constant touch with the other members. Esq. McReynolds is one of the best fitted men in the county for this class of work.

W. L. Yancey, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in Southern Kentucky treated me without success. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle gave immediate re- lief and three bottles cured me en- tirely. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy." Take no sub- stitute. All druggists.

A GOOD ROAST.

And a Deserved Turn Given By The News-Democrat.

The ladies of the Daughters of the Confederacy at Lexington re- cently petitioned the manager of the Lexington opera house to re- frain from booking any more "Uncle Tom's Cabin" shows. The request was courteous, and it merited a courteous reply. But the manager of the opera house, who evidently mistakes flippancy for wit and in- sults for epigrams, returned the following answer: "To the Com- mittee of Lexington Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy—Ladies: A copy of your resolution in reference to 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' has been received. Replying to the same, I have only to say: The war has been over about 36 years. Yours, etc., Charles Scott." This moves one to regret that the said war was not of sufficiently re- cent date to have made Mr. Charles Scott one of its victims. Still there is some consolation. The war has been over as stated, about thirty six years, but the fool-killer goes on and on forever and in his own good time may gather Mr. Charles Scott, of Lexington, Ky., into the fold.—Paducah News-Democrat.

Poultices.

The application of heat is often extremely useful in the relief of pain and of inflammation, or in hastening the maturing of a boil or felon. The most usual way of mak- ing such an application is by the means of poultices. These retain the heat much longer than hot cloths, and have an advantage over a hot water bag when moist heat is required.

The making of poultices is an art which can be learned from practice and unfortunately for many poor sufferers, few persons ever master the art.

A good poultice should be per- fectly smooth, moist, but not drip- ping, as light as possible, and as hot as it can be made without burning the patient.

A poultice of flaxseed is perhaps the most common, but poultices can be made of ground slippery elm, corn meal, bread, starch or any other material that will make a smooth paste with hot water, and will not dry too rapidly and be- come caked and hard.

In making a flaxseed poultice the flaxseed meal, the bowl and the spoon for stirring should be pre- viously warmed, and everything should be ready to the hand before a start is made. Boiling water is poured into the bowl, and then the meal is added gradually with constant stirring. This is better than adding the water to the meal, for then it is very difficult to prevent lumping.

As soon as the paste is of the proper consistency—two parts of meal to five of water being about the right proportion—it should be spread an inch or so thick upon a piece of muslin, leaving an uncov- ered margin of two inches. Then on the face of the poultice is placed a piece of flannel of the same size as the muslin. The edges are now quickly turned over and fastened with safety pins or basted, and the poultice is ready to go against the skin.

The advantage of having the flannel next the skin is that the poultice may be applied very hot without burning.

If it is necessary to repeat the poultices often it is well to make bags of the right size, sewn on three sides and with two-inch flaps on the end, which can be rapidly pinned after the bag is filled.

A poultice to be of any use should be changed as soon as it grows cold, which is usually by the end of two hours.

If applied to a commencing boil, it should be only a little larger than the inflamed part.

Generally it makes little differ- ence what material is used, the vir- tue being in the heat and moisture: but sometimes flaxseed irritates a very tender skin, and then starch or bread should be substituted.
